Association,
Ohio Conference
June 6, 2019

A Big Thank You...

to Grace UCC for opening their parish hall for our Spring Meeting on May 4. Everyone was so welcoming and helpful, and served a wonderful array of breakfast foods.

Help Support Our General Synod Delegates!

Dear Friends,

Your special financial support of our General Synod Delegates is needed and appreciated. Your kind gifts may be given either online by going to www.ohioucc.org and clicking on "Special Synod Support" or by mailing a check to the Ohio Conference UCC, 6161 Busch Blvd, Suite 100, Columbus, OH 43229. Please note "Special Synod Support" on the memo line. Thanks so very much for your support of our delegates who are so giving of their time for this important expression of our shared life.

Peace and every good,
Dave

Climate Justice Webinar, Today, June 6, 2 p.m.

The UCC's Council for Climate Justice is sponsoring a webinar in which lead authors and advocates for five environmentally-related resolutions will present on their respective resolutions. The webinar is for anyone in the UCC regardless of whether or not you are attending General Synod. It is important for members throughout the life of our denomination to be engaged in the process of considering vital matters of faith. The five resolutions pertain to the Green New Deal, forced migration, carbon dividend legislation, nuclear war prevention, and the use of Styrofoam. The webinar will be held on June 6th at 2 pm ET, but a recording will be sent out to all who register.

Creation Justice Webinar

This month's Creation Justice Webinar features Nick Estes who recently published the acclaimed book on Standing Rock and the long tradition of indigenous resistance. Naomi Klein has praised the book for its transformative stories from the front lines while observing, "Embedded in the centuries-long struggle for Indigenous liberation resides our best hope for a safe and just future for everyone on this planet." In this webinar, Estes will provide critical historical knowledge and perspective for people of faith and conscience seeking environmental justice. The webinar will be held on June 13th at 1 pm. Sign-up even if you can't make it. All who register will be sent a link to a recording of the webinar.

“Sacraments and Ordinances” Seminar

Curious about what baptism and communion have meant to people over almost 2,000 years? Looking for some fresh ways to think about these practices and to create rituals that resonate for our day? Need to write papers or engage with your board or committee for ordination about communion or baptism?

“Sacraments and Ordinances” (WO625) meets June 24–28 at Methodist Theological School in Ohio (3081 Columbus Pike, Delaware, Ohio) and is open to students, alums, and auditors. Readings come from the early church up into postcolonial theory and current issues (including justice, gender, ecology). Course is discussion-based with some online components.

Contact Robin Knowles Wallace rwallace@mtso.edu with any questions.
